INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Executive Committee of Cayman Islands Football Association

We were engaged to audit the financial statements of Cayman Islands Football Association (the "Association"), which comprise the statement of financial position as at December 31, 2014, the income statement, and statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant

In our opinion, because of the significance of the matter described in the Bases for Disclaimer of Opinion section of our report, we were unable to obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence to provide a basis for an audit opinion, and accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the accompanying financial statements.

Bases for Disclaimer of Opinion

As outlined in note 1.2 of the financial statements, the Association has experienced significant alleged and perpetrated fraud. The allegations commenced during 2015 but related to fraud arising during 2014 and in earlier years. Though investigations by authorities and an internal forensic audit was completed and uncovered associated losses as disclosed in these financial statements, there may still be remnants of fraud left uncovered which may be pervasive to the financial statements as a whole.

In addition to this, we were unable to obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence on the following items within the financial statements:

- We analyzed the land and buildings based on the Goal Projects funded by FIFA and whilst we were able to obtain sufficient and appropriate evidence as at December 31, 2014 following adjustments made, we were unable to determine whether these adjustments related to accounting errors or the perpetrated fraud outlined above as there were insufficient records to do so.
- We were unable to obtain support for expenses amounting to CI$164,778.
- sales and gate receipts amounting to CI$123,000, CI$6,600, CI$107,773 and CI$12,157 respectively. 3. We were unable to obtain support for International Tournament revenues, sponsorship, World Cup ticket
- 4. The system of internal controls of the Association, in common with many other organizations of similar size and purpose, is dependent upon the close involvement of the Association's management. The Association derived a portion of its income from gate receipts and World Cup ticket sales which cannot be fully controlled until they are entered into the accounting records and are therefore not susceptible to independent audit verification. Accordingly, it was not practicable to extend our auditing procedures of such revenue beyond the amounts recorded.

We conducted our audits in accordance with International Standards on Auditing ("ISA"). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Association in accordance with the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants' Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants ("IESBA Code"), and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the IESBA Code. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial statements based on conducting the audit in accordance with ISA. Because of the matters described in the Bases for Disclaimer of Opinion section of our report, we were unable to obtain sufficient and appropriate evidence to provide a basis for an audit opinion.

Emphasis of Matter

We draw attention to note 1 of the financial statements, which describes the economic dependency of the Association on the funding of various organizations.

We also draw attention to note 7 of the financial statements, which describes that the Association's mortgage loan has fallen into arrears with no subsequent payments being made post year end. Furthermore, the bank is not accruing any interest on the outstanding loan and the Association is currently in breach of its loan agreement.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with US GAAP and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Association's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Association or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Association's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISA will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with ISA, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Association's internal control.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Association's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Association to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Notes to Financial Statements

Notes to Financial Statements December 31, 2014

(Expressed in Cayman Islands dollars)

1. Principal Activity and Status

The Cayman Islands Football Association (the "Association", or "CIFA") is a non-profit organization established to administer and promote the sport of association football in the Cayman Islands.

CIFA derives a significant portion of its annual funding from The International Federation of Association Football (FIFA) and The Confederation of North, Central American and Caribbean Association Football (CONCACAF). Consequently, the Association is economically dependent on FIFA and CONCACAF for financial support in order to remain a going concern.

The Association also generates revenue from gate receipts and registration fees and receives funding from private donations, sponsorships, and the Cayman Islands Government.

1.2 Perpetrated Fraud

Various allegations of fraud surrounding certain members of CIFA's Executive Committee were made starting in 2015. Since then, there have been arrests by law enforcement on charges (or suspicion) of fraud in and outside of the Cayman Islands involving former Executive Committee members, Jeffrey Webb and Canover Watson. CIFA has cooperated with relevant authorities and engaged a forensics team to further investigate the allegations.

It was noted that an alleged fraud may have occurred within property and equipment, specifically with regards to the funding of the costs of developing the buildings and football pitches at the CIFA Center of Excellence. Also, it was alleged that the Association entered into unsecured loan arrangements with fraudulent companies under the control and ownership of Jeffrey Webb and Canover Watson.

Significant losses were uncovered as a result of the investigations; however, there may still be remnants of fraud left uncovered which may be pervasive to the Financial Statements. These financial statements were prepared using the best information available at the time. Any uncovered losses impacting the financial statements have been recognized in the opening net assets for the year with the following adjustments made:

Account	Increase/Decrease
Property and equipment, net Loan facilities	765,745
Loan facilities	(918,076)

As a result of the prior year adjustments, net income and retained earnings increased by CI$152,331 for the year ended December 31, 2014.

(Expressed in Cayman Islands dollars)

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with the accounting principles accepted in the United States of America requires the executive committee to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method and is based upon the estimated useful lives of the assets, which are as follows:

Capitalization

The initial cost of tangible acquisitions with material future economic benefits are capitalized as assets in the Association's records along with any costs to bring such acquisition to a place and condition of use. Assets are depreciated in future years according to the periods outlined below:

T 1 117 .
Leasehold Land	99 Years
Buildings and Pitch	_
	30 Years
Furniture, fixtures and fittings	10 Years
Automobiles	10 Years
Equipment	10 Years
Website	3 Years

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (Continued)

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For the purpose of reporting the statements of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents include balances due from banks and short-term deposits with original maturities of three months or less.

Taxation

There is no tax on income or profits in the Cayman Islands. Accordingly, no provision for income tax is made in these financial statements.

Accounts Receivable

The Association extends credit to its members in the normal course of business and performs ongoing credit evaluations of its members, maintaining allowances for potential credit losses which, when realized, have been within management's expectations. During the year ended December 31, 2014, $7,740 of bad debts were written off. These represent amounts considered uncollectible.

Contributions

Contributions are recognized when the donor makes a promise to give to the Associationthat is, in substance, unconditional. Contributions that are restricted by the donor are reported as increases in unrestricted net assets if the restrictions expire in the fiscal year in which the contributions are recognized. All other donor-restricted contributions are reported as increases in temporarily or permanently restricted net assets depending on the nature of the restrictions. When a restriction expires, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets.

The Association uses the allowance method to determine uncollectible unconditional promises receivable. The allowance is based on prior years' experience and management's analysis of specific promises made.

Revenue recognition

Tournament revenues, gate receipts and sponsorships are recognized in the period when associated games are played. Grants and donations are recognized in the period the Association is entitled to the funds, where there is certainty of receipt and the amounts can be reliably quantified. Grants from the Cayman Islands Government, FIFA, and CONCACAF are accounted for in the period specified by the relevant entities approving the granting of funds. Fines are recognized in the period levied, other revenues are recognized on an accrual basis when the conditions attached to the income have been met.

(Expressed in Cayman Islands dollars)

In addition, the Association is required to present a statement of cash flows.

The Association also elected to use SFAS No. 116, Accounting for Contributions Received and Contributions Made.
